

SANDIS VOLDINS

Sandis Voldins is a member of the Board of the Latvian National Opera and Ballet from 2019, from autumn 2024 - Director of the Opera.

Sandis has a background combining law (University of Latvia, Master of Law) and culture (Latvian Academy of Culture, Master of Arts in Humanities), as well as a Master's degree in Cultural and Social Anthropology from the University of Latvia. Currently holds a PhD in Arts from the Latvian Academy of Culture.

He has a long experience in public administration at the Ministry of Culture and the State Chancellery, including extensive experience in the field of culture - both as a former State Secretary at the Ministry of Culture and in various institutions and cultural organisations in the system of the Ministry of Culture. He has planned and managed large-scale successful cultural, change management, investment and development projects.

Sandis Voldins is a lecturer and a member of the Council at the Latvian Academy of Culture. Serves on the Board of the Latvian Association of Professional Music Collectives, representing the interests of the sector.